Food Shippers of America Leaders, Members, and Scholarship Supporters:

I am writing to personally thank you for your generous scholarship donation to my educational, extracurricular, and professional endeavors. I was excited and deeply honored to learn that I had been selected as the first-place recipient of the 2021 John J. Murphy Scholarship. The financial assistance that this award provides will be a tremendous help as I aim to learn, grow, inspire, and positively impact both myself and all those that surround me in the coming years.

After graduating with my Marketing/Marketing Research undergraduate degree in May, I will be returning to Missouri State University as a graduate student pursuing a Master of Business Administration concentrated in marketing and management. During my time in the MBA program, I will serve as a graduate assistant in the College of Business, providing tutoring and research assistance to its large network of students and faculty members. Additionally, I will be joining Midwest Dairy's Kansas City-based team this summer as a Marketing Communications Intern. All of these exciting new opportunities will allow me to continue developing and refining skills in marketing, advertising, research, data and marketing analytics, communications, and more. Your contributions to my efforts as a student and business professional will help to foster growth both personally and professionally as I take these next steps in my career.

As I continue with my academic and professional work, the John J. Murphy Scholarship will serve as a constant reminder of the support and encouragement that the Food Shippers of America and its members, supporters, and donors have given me. I thank you again for your support, and I am proud to be recognized by the Food Shippers of America organization. I am honored to have the FSA and its members become a part of my journey.

Sincerely,
